

Brandon Etheridge first walked on the stage at the Chicago State University Theater, as the Tin Man in The Wiz, and he has had a passion for acting ever since. Additionally, Brandon has trained at The Second City Training Center, in Chicago. Brandon has worked on a host of independent films, such as Sugar & Spice, The Leijend, and The County. When Brandon isn't on stage, he enjoys cycling, reading, and spending time outdoors.