Destiney Hadden

Destiney Hadden made her Chicago acting debut co-starring in the original horror play Lovers by BlkOut Theatre Project in February 2026. She has done playwriting work in association with The Beautiful City Project and Streamline Theatre for the December 2025 musical production of Let It Snow. Her training includes stewardship in improv comedy and vocals at Chicago Home Theatre and Old Town School of Folk Music, respectively. Destiney graduated from the University of Michigan in 2022 with dual degrees in Biology and Psychology. Her passion for performing arts blossomed on campus during her time as Vice President of the Smile Bringer Singers student organization. She continues to hone her craft as the understudy for Kai in Other Paths to God.