

Aundria TraNay is a Chicago based actor, singer and songwriter who holds a BFA degree in Acting from AMDA College of the Performing Arts NY/LA. She began her career in the arts in high school, winning silver at the national NAACP ACT-SO competition for drama. Her recent credits include Cullud Wattah, Lorrain, Two Trains Running; For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide / When the Rainbow Is Enuf and Saturday Night/Sunday Morning. She is excited to make her Perceptions Theatre debut. She is represented by Lori Lins LTD.

/